

VIRGINIA: IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE CITY OF WILLIAMSBURG
AND JAMES CITY COUNTY

IN RE: Estate of JEAN H. KLEIN

DISCLAIMER

JEAN KLEIN, of the City of Williamsburg, died testate on November 28, 1999. The Last Will and Testament of JEAN KLEIN, dated August 11, 1999, has not been admitted to probate.

I, Daniel M. Stuck, County Administrator of the County of York, Virginia, a beneficiary of the above-mentioned will, as provided by Va. Code Ann. § 64.1-188 et seq., as amended, and Section 2518 of the Internal Revenue Code, hereby irrevocably disclaim any and all interest in all those items of household property of the decedent or her estate bequeathed to York County pursuant to the aforesaid will and located at the time of the decedent's death at the decedent's residence at Woodshire Apartments, 185 Merrimac Trail, Apt. No. 1, including the following:

1. Miscellaneous household items
2. Living room furniture
3. Bedroom furniture
4. Artwork

York County has accepted neither the property, interest in the property, nor any benefits therefrom before executing this disclaimer.

However, York County does not disclaim any interest in other property of the decedent (if any) including (without limitation) funds belonging to the decedent in bank accounts or similar depository accounts, stocks and bonds and other forms of intangible property, or other property belonging to the decedent, whether real or personal, tangible or intangible, except as is specifically referenced above.

COUNTY OF YORK

By: _____
Daniel M. Stuck
County Administrator

Approved as to form:

County Attorney

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
COUNTY OF YORK, to-wit:

The foregoing disclaimer was acknowledged before me this _____ day of _____, 2000.

Notary Public
My commission expires: _____